FULFILL. The remaining plaintiffs, as complainants filing their bill of complaint on August 27, 1959, are owners of lots and, in most cases, homes situated in Westerly, on "Plat of Wokepaug Terrace", so called. They seek to permanently enjoin the principal defendant, Langworthy, from interfering with their unrestricted use, including the parking of automobiles, of a certain right of way over land owned by Langworthy and alleged by plaintiffs to be appurtenant to their several properties; they also seek
